BROADWAY THEATER.

"The Gamblers."

"The Gamblers," a splendid four-act drama, produced at Polka Waterbury, last Thursday evening for the first time upon any stage, marks a definite and important advance in the growth of the stage as a dramatic art and gives to the stage one of the most bewildering little artists in the person of Mahel Cameron seen here in ages. Admirers of Maude Adams, Billie Burke and Ethel Barrymore will find in this wonderfully perfect woman all the essential features of their art, and a charm that will win her numberless friends.

Alicia Ramsey has written among her most prominent plays "John Hudson's Wife," in which Hilda Spang starred for a time, and "The Quicksands," in which Wright Lorimer was featured.

"The Gamblers" is a strong, human play, unfolded with great force. Its situations are dramatic and plausible, the dialogue is smart and clever and the characterizations natural and appealing. The story is subtly told, sufficiently distinct and absorbing to entitle it to success. It has been staged faithfully and has a third act sufficiently vigorous and appealing to carry it on to great success.

At the Broadway theater Wednesday evening.

"Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway."

Truth is stranger than fiction, and nowhere is it more cleverly depicted than in George M. Cohan's musical play "Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway," which Cohan & Harris present at the Broadway theater on Thursday, Jan. 2th.

Norwich does not need to be told much about "Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway." George M. Cohan and his critics have mutually admitted that it is the author's best effort at dramatic writing. It is not merely a musical play, because it is full of dramatic situations, pathos, humor and a little tragedy comes in to balance the piece. It has been called a judicious mixture of smiles, but long on smiles. The unique character of Kid Burns is so carefully built that it is due for a long existence. In the hands of Scott Welsh, the add is forcefully portrayed and he has been received with open arms in every big city in the United States. Francis Gordon as just "Kid Mary" has received the highest approval for his delineation of this humble but great character, critics everywhere praising his portrayal and his portrayal. Scott Welsh around the corner, some of the better known being "So Long, Mary," Mary is a Grand Old Name. "Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway" and "Popular Millionaire."

Seats on sale at the box office, Warrington house and Biskit, Pletcher & Co. on Tuesday, Jan. 5, at 9 o'clock.

"The Merry Widow."

The original Boston production of "The Merry Widow" comes to the Broadway theater on Tuesday, Jan. 12th, direct from its sensational run of eighteen weeks at the Tremont theater. Henry W. Savage is associated with the company his famous English grand opera orchestra.

It is generally conceded that "The Merry Widow" is the most beautiful and altogether captivating opera produced in the last twenty years. Since its first presentation in Vienna, in January, 1906, it has been played with great success in every capital in Europe. At one time last winter it was running in eighteen European cities simultaneously. It is well on its second year in London.

at the present time and there is no apparent sign of an abatement of public interest.

Its success has depended very largely upon its delightful music, which has been praised by the most capricious critics of both hemispheres and which has admittedly set a new standard to which composers of light opera music will have to adhere in the future. Its famous waltz, when it is played by itself fairly intoxicates with its subtle languor when one sees it danced in the second act.

The three scenes of the opera team with varied life and animation. The state ballroom scene seen in the first act is a bewitching riot of color and the far famed supper room of Maxim's shown in the last act is a perfect whirl of infectious gaiety.

The role of Sonia, the widow, will be sung here by the tantalizingly pretty and altogether charming Lina Ahlstrom, the Swedish prima donna, who has had Boston at her feet for the past five months. Her singing of the role is to be quite beyond criticism. It was originally written for her by Franz Lehár, the composer, and she would have created it in the original production in Vienna when it was an exceptionally tempting offer from Herr Corried, at that time the director of the Metropolitan opera house in New York.

Oscar Plegman will be seen in the role of Ambassador Popoff, a part in which he was great success in Boston. John Thomas will be seen in the role of Mr. Nish and Harold Blake will have the role of Camille de Jolidon.

Other members of the company are William C. Wilson, Carolyn Sedley, E. J. McCarthy and Charles Meakin.

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair.

The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send the stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
